2020 Historic Boat Tours with the Museum at Campbell River

The Thurlow Islands

The Thurlow Islands are a hidden treasure in the wilderness. Although sparsely inhabited, they have a rich history of steam donkeys, float houses, logging camps, gold mines and tidal rapids. This year's Thurlow trips include stops at Blind Channel Resort - a family owned business run by the Richter's, who have been living on West Thurlow for several generations. A special trip on July 12 features music by Knackers Yard and a special dinner at the Cedar Post Restaurant..

Desolation Sound

Experience the myriad bays and interconnected coves nestled among the small islands of Desolation Sound. Take in the rugged beauty of the backdrop of the coastal mountains. Trip includes visits to the peaceful lagoon and picturesque falls at Teakerne Arm, and to Prideaux Haven, one of the most popular boating anchorages in the region.

Redonda Islands & Waddington Channel

Heather Harbord, author of the book Desolation Sound, referred to West Redonda as the "social centre of the sound". West Redonda had two settlements - Refuge Cove and Redonda Bay. Refuge Cove is still a hive of activity in the summer months with it's charming and eclectic community.

Cortes Island

This island oasis evokes a sense of serenity in almost anyone who has been there. Located at the entrance of Desolation Sound, there is evidence of human use that goes back at least 8,000 years. Hear about the devastating effects of the Dawson Whaling Company, Mike Manson's long rows in a boat full of sheep, and the lively cast of this Island's history.

Sonora Island and Dent Island

Cruising past Quadra, Maurelle, Read and Stuart Islands to reach Sonora Island, you will experience the area's notorious tidal rapids, and hear tales from the past of many landmarks along the way. Dent Island Lodge is a small luxury wilderness resort with a stunning view. Dent Island stops are always a favourite with our guests, but their Solstice Dinner is a first on a Museum tour. Book early so that you don't miss out!

The fine print...

Prices do not include GST or beverages at meals. Departures are from Discovery Marine Safaris, new location at 104-909 Island Hwy, Campbell River.
