

Haig-Brown Property Tour (Grades 9-12)

In this program, students will be introduced to the life and legacy of Roderick Haig-Brown. As an avid fly-fisher, pioneering conservationist, acclaimed author and magistrate, Roderick left his mark in Campbell River and beyond. His writing has influenced fisheries biologists, ecologists and countless others interested in the evolving relationship between people and nature. The highlight of this program for many students is the exclusive tour inside Haig-Brown's study, in which Roderick wrote many of his 25 books and over 200 articles and speeches.

The majority of this 2-hour program takes place outdoors.

BC Curriculum Connections

Grade 9 Social Studies

- Physiographic features and natural resources in Canada

Grade 10 Social Studies

- Environmental, political, and economic policies.

Grade 11 Explorations in Social Studies

- Social justice initiatives can transform individuals and systems.
- Methods used by individuals, groups, and organizations to promote social justice.
- Natural resource use and local, regional, national, or global development.
- Representations of natural and human-made phenomena.

Grade 12 Social Justice

- Social justice initiatives can transform individuals and systems.
- Social justice issues (environmental and ecological justice)
- Processes, methods, and approaches individuals, groups, and institutions use to promote social justice.

Grade 12 Human Geography

- Human activities alter landscapes in a variety of ways.